Deliberations to Resume in Texas Day Care Fire Case

Author : ecxmlrpc

Date : December 5, 2012

Although not many are prepared to call it a heinous crime, what the woman, running the day care where four tiny tots lost their lives in a freak fire incident, did is something that can't be viewed lightly because such incidents should not be allowed to recur in the future anywhere. When you think of the pain suffered by the victims' parents, you instantly look for a harsh sentence that sends a strong warning to all those attending on children in other forums.

Read the full article here:
Texas day care fire trial deliberations to resume - WPEC