Splitting advice into manageable bites is definitely a great way to venture into the social networking sea. Creating a Twitter handle that articulates your value, following a couple dozen people and begin to share their content, and Tweeting your own content are the 3 best tips to use Twitter in a job search. It pays to consider developing your own original tweets. And if it's not going to be the case of authoring a blog or guest post on other blogs, what needs to be done is to create 140-character tips that apply to your area of expertise.
